ANOTHER SLATE IS MADE FOR "CABINET" OFFICES

Democratic Territorial Committee Puts Forward War-Horses of the Organization for Berths Under Governor Pinkham—
—L. L. McCandless Named for Presidency of Board of Health, Says Not in Position to Accept

Democrats of the territorial central committee are now prepared to submit a list of favored partisans to Governor Pinkham to fill the position in his "cabinet." This statement was made by M. C. Pacheco, chairman of the slate, McCandless' statement, the story is going the rounds that the committee wishes to put him in Dr. J. S. B. Pratt's place that a political standpoint may be gained in that department.

For superintendent of public works, John H. Wilson is said to be favored over W. A. Wall and also over George Whittemore, while J. J. Smiddy is favored, or first choice, over Julius Asch and Paul Jarrett for high sheriff. According to statements made this morning the committee has completed the endorsements for the "cabinet," and will stand pat—do nothing more—until requested by the governor to submit its endorsements. If the request is not made, the committeemen say they will take no further action. Again, if the names passed on are not satisfactory to the chief executive, they say they have additional names in readiness to submit to him.

The following are the names given of men favorably passed upon for "cabinet" positions by the territorial central committee at its last executive meeting. The names are given in the order of their reported preference.

For secretary of the territory—
Col. Curtis P. Hauka, Senator D. E. Metzger, Palmer Woods.

For attorney-general—W. W. Thayer, J. Lightfoot.

committee today. He said that his organization had agreed upon a first and second choice for each place, which will be presented to the governor upon request.

One new name at least is learned this morning as reported favorably for a territorial position. L. L. McCandless, once a determined candidate for the chief executiveship of Hawaii, has been suggested for the presidency of the territorial board of health, and this it is said in Democratic circles is particularly significant as showing the next political step contemplated for McCandless. His name is one given out as the first choice of the committee for this place.

Mr. McCandless, speaking of the reported action of the committee this morning, said that he was not in a po-

ULTIMATE SPOILS OF MEXICAN WAR

Upper picture shows rich oil properties in Mexico which will be the reward of the victorious army in the present rebellion. At left is the Tuxam oil-field; at right, the Potrero gusher near Tampico, said to be the largest in the world. Below is the 26th battalion of the Federal army, which mutilated and massacred its officers, marching to the national palace to be shot.

DEMOCRATS WILL BANQUET PINKHAM AT YOUNG TONIGHT

Tickets Must Be Secured Before Reaching Hotel, as No Sale Is to Be Made at Door

Democrats are securing their tickets today for the banquet to Governor Pinkham to be given this evening on the roof-garden of the Alexander Young hotel. Announcement was made this morning by the committee in charge of the affair that all tickets must be secured beforehand, as they will not be sold at the door.

Senator James L. Coke's toast-list gives promise of some very interesting speeches this evening. On the list to speak are several of the most prominent Democrats of the territory. Senator Coke will act as toastmaster. The banquet is given under the direct auspices of the Hawaii National Democratic League with the cooperation of the territorial and county Democratic committees.

Governor Pinkham, at the suggestion of the league, has invited 100 guests to be present with him this evening. The accommodations on the roof-garden are limited to 200. By the way the tickets were being sold this morning, there will be easily that number on hand this evening. The banquet is set for 7:30 o'clock. Dress is announced as optional and many guests say they will observe Jeffersonian simplicity by appearing in business clothes.

The following is the toast-list:

James L. Coke, toastmaster.

"The President of the United States," all;

"Hawaiian Democracy Past and Present," Col. Charles J. McCarthy;

"Feminism of an ex-Senator," Hon. Palmer P. Woods;

"Party Loyalty," Hon. Lincoln L. McCandless;

"Impressions of a Malihini," Hon. Jeff McCann;

"Hawaii Nei," Manley Hopkins, Esq.;

"Our Guest," Governor L. E. Pinkham;

"The Territorial Committee," Manuel C. Pacheco, Esq.;

"Political Future of Hawaii," Hon. S. S. Paxon;

"The Baltimore National Convention," Harry Irwin, Esq.;

"The Other Islands," Hon. Delbert E. Metzger;

"The County Committee," Charles Barron, Esq.

INTERESTING PAPERS TO BE READ AT THE PROMOTIONIST MEETING

"Hawaiianizing Hawaii" will be the subject of an address which Mrs. Katherine M. Yates, the local writer and author, will deliver before the members of the Promotion Committee at their meeting at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, Stangenwald building. Another address which should be of interest will be that delivered by Raymond C. Brown, European agent for the department of immigration, who will speak on the subject, "Europe as a Field for Promotion Work."

The meeting this afternoon will be the initial one of the New Year, and it is expected that plans will be taken up concerning the work which the committee intends doing during the next three months.

SILVER RINGS TELL STORY OF GALLANT 2ND

Unique Military Ceremony Rouses Love of Country and Regiment in Men of the Second Foot—In 84 Battles

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
FORT SHAFTER, Jan. 2.—An unusual ceremony was inaugurated in the 2nd Infantry today whereby the men composing the regiment were given an opportunity to view the newly received regimental colors at close range and personally inspect the silver bands on the staff that commemorate the battles and engagements shared in by the regiment either wholly or in part during its more than one hundred and twenty years of service.

Mindful of the powerful import of the story told by the 84 silver bands, Colonel Francis H. French today ordered that the companies be assembled on their respective company parades and that the regimental color guard carry from company to company the embroidered blue flag on its flashing pike. On arrival at the various rendezvous, the color was given formal salute by every individual and then the men gathered close about the guard while the company commander read the account of the fighting undergone whereby the pike received the shining covering over two-thirds of its length. As the story was told the particular bands that carried either the regimental name or the letter of the company concerned were pointed out and their inscriptions read, for it is to be borne in mind that each band has engraved upon it a serial number from one to eighty-four, and the official designation of the battle or engagement, together with the date of its occurrence and the statement as to what part of the regiment participated therein. A full list of these struggles running from St. Clair's defeat at Maumee Fords, November 4, 1791, to San Narciso,

PINKHAM LAYSAN SCHLEMMER IS CHILD OF 1914

To Captain Max Schlemmer, formerly known as "The King of Laysan Island," probably goes the honor of possessing the first baby born in the territory in the new year. To the captain and Mrs. Schlemmer, at their residence, 1169 Gulick avenue, Kalahehi, was born their thirteenth child, a boy, at 1:50 o'clock this morning. It is their twelfth child living, a former child having been buried on Laysan.

The captain promptly proceeded to divide the honor with the new governor, of whom he is a staunch admirer, and with the seaman his fame by naming the youngster, "Pinkham Laysan Schlemmer."

COMMITTEE ON DECORATIONS TO MEET TONIGHT

Entire Membership Expected To Be On Hand to Make Arrangements for Floral Parade

The first step towards the formation of several committees for the 1914 Floral Parade and Mid-Pacific Carnival will be taken this evening when the recently appointed committee on decorations, of which Emil A.

Emil A. Berndt, chairman of committee on decorations.

Berndt is chairman, will meet at 7:30 o'clock in the rooms of the Merchants' Association, Young hotel building. The meeting has been called for the purpose of thoroughly organizing the committee in order that it may be subdivided into smaller groups to carry on the work in an efficient manner.

Besides Mr. Berndt, the other members of the committee are F. C. Blake, P. G. W. Cooper, Albert F. Afong, W. H. McCallan, Daniel Logan, J. W. Caldwell, Theodore H. Hoffman, John C. Lane, Lester Petrie, M. C. Pacheco, E. H. F. Wolter, F. D. Lowrey, Edgar Barry and Lieut. Samuel Gordon, U. S. A.

"We hope to have some decorations done on a very large scale during the 1914 celebration," said Chairman Berndt this morning. "and I feel sure that the entire committee will be present this evening. One member has told me that he will not be able to be present on account of a prior engagement, but he says that he will arrange to see me the first thing in the morning to find out what we do at the meeting and what part he is to play in the work. This shows the kind of spirit that is going to bring results. I want to mention the fact that this meeting was called before arrangements were made for the di-

WALL STREET STARTLED BY MORGAN & CO.'S SUDDEN CHANGE IN DIRECTORATES

Old Interlocking System Largely Swept Away by Withdrawal of Prominent Members of Firm—Son of Famous Financier Announces New Policy in Which Public Sentiment is Recognized

[Associated Press Cable]
NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 2.—That the great financial house of J. P. Morgan & Company is to be radically reorganized in policy as one result of the passing from the scene of J. Pierpont Morgan was shown today when a statement was given out by the firm showing a move to end the custom of "interlocking directorates" that has been one of the distinguishing characteristics of the Morgan regime.

Wall street was amazed to learn through rumors and the authorized statement later issued that J. P. Morgan himself, the son of the great financier, is withdrawing from the directorates of 13 railroads, two steamship lines, the Western Union Telegraph Company and many others.

He remains director of the United States Steel Corporation, the Northern Pacific Railroad and two others.

Charles Steele, a veteran member of the house of Morgan, is still a director in nine railroads, the International Harvester trust, the General Electric Company and two more large corporations.

Henry P. Davison, another Morgan veteran and since the old financier's death regarded as the active head of the firm's banking interests, remains on the directorates of the Western Union, the United States Life Insurance Company, the Remington Typewriter Company.

Thomas W. Lamont, a member of the firm since 1911, remains on the directorates of many others.

Mr. Morgan explains that the attendance on so many board meetings has become too exacting. He believes, he says, that changed public sentiment will permit him to serve the stockholders better if he has a less intimate personal relationship with the corporations.

He denies that there are any legal complications threatening the old system or that government hostility to it was responsible for the decision to make a change.

Melodramatic Pirate Held Up Ship But Couldn't Shoot

[Associated Press Cable]
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.—The details of the attempt made to hold up the captain of the steamer Willamette were learned here today and read like a chapter from melodrama.

Captain Reiner of the Willamette, bound from San Pedro to San Francisco, and carrying 25 passengers, was sitting in his stateroom when a masked pirate, wearing a brown wig and false moustache, entered the stateroom door, displaying an automatic .44 revolver.

The captain grabbed the pistol from the pirate's hands. The pirate then drew another revolver and the two fought until the crew, hearing the noise and the cries, arrived on the scene and overpowered the invaders. He was then placed in irons.

The safe contained $1500. The pirate is A. G. Nelson, former ship's officer. He took passage at San Pedro. A launch was seen following the ship and it is believed that the pirate planned to escape to shore. He carried pencilled notations of landings and distances.

Wilson Mystifies 'em by Secretly Meeting Mr. Lind

[Associated Press Cable]
PASS CHRISTIAN, Miss., Jan. 2.—President Wilson today went aboard the revenue cutter Winona to meet Special Envoy Lind, who arrived from Mexico on a hasty and unannounced mission. The meeting of the president and his envoy was accomplished with much secrecy. It is rumored that a further statement from the administration is to be made shortly.

California Floods Menace But No Serious Damage Yet

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 2.—More rain is adding menace to the floods that have now invaded the northern and central valleys and are threatening in the south. No serious damage has yet been done.

Search For Bandit Continued

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 2.—Another search is to be made for the Mexican bandit, Ralph Lopez, whose luck and alertness has enabled him to escape numerous pursuing posses and probably to get away from the mine where he was believed to be penned up and in which he was to be executed. A large posse entered the mine today to make a thorough search through 30 miles of underground workings.

Smith Bad, Pelkey is Worse

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 2.—All the fight critics who "covered" the Gunboat Smith-Arthur Pelkey fight yesterday at Daly City agree that Pelkey is hopeless as a contender for ring honors. They agree also that Smith, who won the decision after 15 slow rounds, is a sorry heavyweight champion.

PUNAHOU TRIM MAUI BUT SADTLER, ARMY STAR, BREAKS ANKLE

Two victories yesterday on the Valley Island cost the Punahou Athletic Club the services of its crack second baseman for the balance of the season. Lieutenant Otis K. Sadler, West Point star and crack second baseman of Al Castle's Amateur aggregation, broke his ankle sliding into third on a hit and run play in the initial inning of the afternoon game yesterday. He was carried from the field, and the surgeon who attended him gave it as his opinion that Sadler will be out of baseball for at least four months. In Sadler Punahou loses its most valuable player.

Punahou won the morning game from the All-Maui team 7 to 6. Sadler was in the box for the Oahu amateurs, and the brand of ball he pitched was first class. His support was ragged, to put it mildly, and all credit is due to him for the victory. His brother officer, Charley Lyman, was at the receiving end of the army battery. Meyers pitched for Maui.

The afternoon game drew a banner crowd. Al Castle, the Harvard veteran twirler, was on the firing line for the Punahous, and he pitched an exceptional game, tightening up in the ninth, and using his head as well as his seasoned pitching arm. Punahou

WAKEFIELD IS AT SERVICE OF NEW GOVERNOR

James Wakefield, a member of the board of harbor commissioners since its organization and one of its most active and progressive members, will tender his resignation to Governor Pinkham. He is offering the resignation in order to leave the government free to do as he sees fit with regard to that office. He has been in the harbor board since 1908.

"I shall be at the governor's service in case he wishes me to continue on the board," said Mr. Wakefield this morning, when asked as to the rumor that he contemplated resigning. "I won 2 to 1, and the game should have been a shut-out for the Oahu amateurs. I pitched good ball for Maui. The game was 1 to 1 tie until the eighth when 'Bill' Jordan hit for three runs, scoring when Grayson executed a perfect squeeze play."

The third game of the series will be played tomorrow, with Maui in the box for Oahu.
